

Day 1 – BVR Training

BACKGROUND

Beyond-Visual-Range (BVR) fighting is without doubt the modern approach to air-combat. Being able to ID , track and spash enemy before it sees you its the ultimate goal of air-superiority. In BVR not only your radar is important ,even IFF, Datalink and friendly AWACS are vital to mantain Situational Awareness.

Today , with Springfield 1 (65th Aggressors F-15Cs) you will engage an air battle over FEBA with AIM-7 Sparrows.

F15 is the primary USAF air-superiority fighter , it may not seem a good dogfighter but it's BVR capabilities are without question.

As today , no enemy aircraft was able to defeat her in a combat situation.

In Aggressor squadrons is used to simulate Su27/33.

BRIEFING

Takeoff from Nellis at 02:35(ZULU time) , at WP2 you can choose to refuel at tanker SHELL (AA TACAN 26Y and CH7 COMM2 radio freq.)or move directly to Showtime check-in at WP3 .

Once in contact with Showtime wait Springfield 1 to be on station and declare READY when you are.

The dogfight will take place over FEBA (WP4), you can enter the fight at any altitude and any formation , so Springfield 1 will.

Remember the only 2 rules:

- HARD DECK LIMIT 100 FT AGL
- NEVER ENTER CONTAINER AIRSPACE

Breaking those rules will consequencently get Showtime to stop the fight.
