Situation

Get yourself prepared for a long flight. While our offensive is making good progress, Iran continues a fierce resistance across the entire battle space.

Yesterday, a Reaper drone spotted a well established insurgent camp well North into Iran near the town of Haji Abad just south of Bakhtegan Lake. This camp is nearly 100 miles from our current location. All our fast mover assets are prioritized elsewhere and we are the closest capable unit for the job. Your mission today is to attack this camp.

In preparation for your arrival, command ordered the creation of a makeshift mobile outpost deep into the contested area. Their last known transmission came from the general vicinity of Khosuyeh, Iran. This corresponds to WP01 in your helo. Their orders were to push further North towards the base of the mountain ranges that makeup the Aliabad region before establishing the outpost.

Your previous mission over the downed Blackhawk used the last of our ammunition. We still await hellfire and rocket replenishment from the Battalion quartermaster. This means finding the FARP is of utmost importance as you only have cannon rounds loaded today. They have a full compliment of ordinance for you upon arrival.

Blue Task

Find the makeshift FARP up near Khosuyeh. When you get close, they should reach out and direct you to them. Once you arrive, arm yourself for the assault on that insurgent camp.

As for weapon loadout ... you definitely need standoff weapon power as we're seeing AAA and Shilka positions at the camp from our Reaper cameras. Dallas can provide Lima and Kilo variants of the Hellfire as well as rocket pods for your operation. You decide what you want to take.

Once you destroy the camp, return to Lar Airbase.

MISSION: Destroy insurgent camp 2 near the town of Haji Abad just south of Bakhtegan Lake.
